For information apply to Mr. Najem, Hotel Managing Director of Cyprus Hotel Co., Army Contractor, Limassol, Cyprus, or to the Manager, "FARMERS' Alexandria. There is a good carriage road from Kopia (on Railway) to Troodos. At Pafos you may see the fine old Latin Cathedral (now a mosque) begun in 1300 and finished in 1315, together with ancient ruins and the Venetian fortifications, the finest in the world. Also the tower or palace, one of "Othello" and of Ford's "Love's Melancholy". The climate of Cyprus in the winter months is delightful and the island will well repay a visit.

EGYPTOLOGICAL NOTES.

EGYPTIAN MANUSCRIPTS AT OXFORD.

Volume 2 of the "Catalogue of Hebrew Manuscripts in the Bodleian Library has just been issued under the joint editorship of the late Dr. Adolf Neubauer, and Mr. Arthur Ernest Cowley, M.A., but in reality the major portion of the work is due to the latter scholar, for as long ago as in 1894 the health of Dr. Neubauer gave way and necessitated Mr. Cowley continuing the work.

This volume enumerates the additions of Hebrew Manuscripts acquired since 1886, that is to say it gives a list of all manuscripts containing any Hebrew text, because very many of the Codices mentioned are really Arabic manuscripts with Hebrew interpolations and colophons. This second instalment of the Bodleian Hebrew catalogue may most aptly be entitled "The Egyptian Manuscript volume" for it contains the short descriptive notes referring to the numerous fragmentary texts from the Geniza manuscript museum room of the Jewish Synagogue at Old Cairo which commenced to pour into the Oxford collection in the year 1890. Thus out of the 316 volumes described in the new volume of the catalogue no less than 166 containing about 2,673 fragments are believed to be from the Geniza.

Mr. Cowley says that the contents of the Cairo Geniza were first brought to notice by the Reverend Grenville J. Chester; but we believe that some year or so previous Count d'Hulst sent a case containing specimens of the manuscripts from it to the British Museum where the authorities neglected to examine its contents, and that by the time that Mr. Chester came across some of the manuscripts the majority of the great store had been destroyed and all more or less mutilated.

For readers of the "Egyptian Gazette" the most interesting manuscripts catalogued will be those from the Geniza and it will therefore be to them we shall mainly refer. Being preserved in a Hebrew Synagogue the majority of the texts are necessarily portions of the "Old Testament". Many of them being Arabic translations with Hebrew notes, or short passages closely connected with the text of the Bible, are the Mishnah commentaries and Talmudic treatises. Liturgies, such like the bulk of the pieces from the Geniza, like the older Green-Roman Egyptian papyri, are legal documents or personal communications. In the case of the former the Bodleian Catalogue gives the names of the parties, and those of the witnesses, and officials and magistrates mentioned when legible. For the latter, a brief summary of the contents is given. Much interesting society and family history may be obtained from those fragments, but they require comparing with the larger series of Geniza documents now preserved at Cambridge where there are probably parts of the same persons, correspondence. Nearly all the original legal memoranda with are mostly of the 11th and 12th centuries, situated from Fostat. A few are earlier, such as the marriage contract in volume 2905 which relates to a certain Aaron bar Jehoshafat. It is dated 10th of the month Elul A.M. 4750-990. AD. The same date is assigned to another record wherein the son of a Jew at Nisibis, in Asia Minor, is concerned. This bundle of old Fostat texts contains four other marriage contracts.

One of these dated 1030 A.D. is interesting because of the numerous biblical names it bears as Japheth, Solomon, Benahai, Shemariam, Abraham, Samuel, Phineas, Ephraim and Joseph. As a specimen the most important text-bound up in volume 2819 may be mentioned. This is an astrological fragment. A leaf of gift dated A.D. 110. A contract of the same age and part of another deed. These in Syrian cursive characters. There come some homilies, and fragments of a commentary on Jeremiah in Arabic with Hebrew notes. A similar work on Hakhala and another on Numbers 21, and part of Deuteronomy. Then portions of a Hebrew commentary upon Hosea. Other pieces of Studies on the Old Testament follow. Then come poetical fragments and extracts from Alfani's treatise on the Babylonian Talmud.

As with Greek and Latin papyri the writings on the recto and verso of a manuscript often differ materially. For instance on the back of a page giving Leviticus 2.4.11, as a nuptial contract of Harknani daughter of Solomon-Kahana, drawn up at Fostat in 1268 of the Seljuk era viz A.D. 1067. Many of these writings are in Spanish Rabbinical characters and also many legal documents refer to cities in North Africa and some to Toledo and Spanish towns. One manuscript preserves the end of a Hebrew work upon the planets. The remains of medical books recovered from the Geniza treasure are perhaps of some value. For instance there is unfortunately incomplete, Heinekin-Isaiah's introduction to Galen's Technique and fragments of a medical dictionary in Hebrew, Arabic and Spanish. Some of the Aramaic papyri had extracts from Elephantine also published by Sayce and Cowley in their volume upon the Mosaic papyri are given again in the catalogue because deposited in the Bodleian Library. They are well known data from the time of the Persian Dominion.

The chief document is a contract for a loan, with penalties for non repayment, at the assigned date. Without personal inspection of these catalogues no adequate idea of the time and pains occupied in their production can be formed. The restriction of our remarks to mere scraps obtained in Egypt, present reference to many most valuable codices and fragments because the Egyptian manuscripts are so largely mutilated and obliterated as to be of very little moment compared with ordinary manuscripts. Nevertheless they afford much information as to the origin of the Old Testament used by the Jews in the Moslem

MISS EVA SCHELLE

FAITH THAT CANNOT BE SHAKEN.

Despite everything that sensational magazines may say, the women of the United States continue to have faith in Peruna.

These women know a great deal more about Peruna than the editors who have, for selfish purposes, written against it. These women have tried Peruna in their families. They have taken it themselves. They know it will help them.

They have suffered from various ailments, and Peruna has come to their relief, even when the doctors failed to cure them.

Such women cannot be convinced by any editorial opinion that their devoted Peruna is a humbug.

Peruna goes right on in its conquest over disease. To fame is spreading all over the earth.

Especially among American women is Peruna a beloved household remedy. It is entirely useless for anyone to try to dissuade them from the results of their own experience.

Peruna is a remedy for the mucous membranes. It therefore has a beneficial effect upon the internal organs of the body that are lined by mucous membranes.

For various chronic climatic diseases Peruna is a reliable remedy.

The testimonials concerning Peruna are given in the language of the people. We do not change or add to anything they may say concerning it.

The evidence is overwhelming that Peruna is a safe, reliable, invaluable remedy for the household.

Headache and Backache.

Mrs. Franklina Gargel, Hamilton, Old Bridgeport Mine, C. B. Canada, writes:
"I thank you for the benefit which I derived from Peruna. There may be many who are suffering from the same disease that I had, for which they have not been able to find the correct remedy."

"For the benefit of such persons I wish to say that I suffered with headache and backache and had a severe cough. I was in bed several weeks and could not do my work. I tried many remedies in vain."

Catarth of the Stomach.

Mrs. Mary Allen, Route 4, Franklin, Tenn., writes:
"I am glad to be able to tell you that I am well of catarrh of the stomach, and am sincerely thankful to you for your advice."

"If it had not been for Peruna I would never have been well. I had three physicians. One of them said my husband thought he could not cure me."

"I had been sick about nine months when a friend asked me to try Peruna. I gratefully tried it and I commenced taking it. I took one and walk and work."

"Everybody says I look as well as I ever did. Oh, you don't know how thankful I feel to you! I have got several other people to take Peruna. I praise it to everybody."

For special directions everyone should read "The Ills of Life," a copy of which surrounds each bottle. Per-u-na is for sale by all chemists and druggists. The following wholesale druggist will supply the retail drug trade in Cairo and Alexandria, Egypt.

Empire for many centuries together with the current versions of the Talmud, and the Arabic translations of both of these and the Synagogue liturgies and Midrashic commentaries. Some day a great scholar will arise who will utilize all these, and the other Geniza remains in European Libraries to write a history of Hebrew literature in the Middle Ages. That he will, in a single life time, be able to achieve the task will be rendered possible by such patient work as has produced the second volume of the catalogue of Hebrew manuscripts in the Bodleian Library.

BUREAU DES REVENUES REQUISSES OCTOBRE 1907

La temperature dans la premiere moitié d'Octobre a pas été favorable aux cotonniers, les nuits ayant été souvent trop fraîches.

Cette circonstance a naturellement, et un peu partout, retardé l'éclatement des noix de la seconde cueillette; même, dans certains districts, quelques dégâts ont été constatés de ce côté.

En somme, la seconde cueillette, qui n'est pas encore terminée, ne répond pas aux perspectives qu'elle laissait entrevoir.

Le troisième cueillette se présente irrégulière, suivant les localités; ses résultats définitifs dépendront d'une continuation de temps propice en Novembre.

Le rendement à l'époque se maintient de 1 à 2 % au-dessus de celui de l'année passée. De la Haute-Egypte, il y a eu aussi des plaintes à cause de la température; mais, malgré tout, la récolte là-bas nous promet une forte augmentation sur l'année précédente.

En résumé, et prenant l'ensemble des renseignements, la récolte semblerait devoir être à peu près égale à celle de l'année dernière; aussi notre estimation actuelle est celle de Cantare 6,750,000 à 7,000,000.

Pour le Comité Le Président en fonction H. BINDERHAGEN.

Testimonial from J.C. MILLAR, Esq., F.R.S.

Dear Mr. SPICER—The work of which you send me photos is certainly of very high quality and I have rarely seen Heads mounted with such skill and finish. Only an Artist could bestow the amount of care and modelling which appear in the faces of Deer, and in your work you are so highly successful there is little left to be desired. Yours very truly, J. C. MILLAR.
